“ Hi Billy, Just read of Moms passing, Ellen and I just want to send our condolences to you and family. Betty was great to work with all those early years and became our neighbor and friend on Hampton Trail. Many times we were invited over for a Christmas celebration and summer celebrations, with your family and friends. We really loved living across the street and will always remember her.

“ This afternoon I opened my newspaper and was shocked to see Betty’s picture in the obituaries. It was too late to attend the visitation and funeral. So, I will tell you my memory of Betty.

I attended Conyers First Methodist Church with Betty before she moved to Covington. At that time I was the coordinator for the Family Promise Program at our church. This program helps homeless people, through churches providing temporary shelter and meals, while they are job searching and learning how to budget, etc. I could always depend on Betty to spend the night at the church, cook a meal, and socialize with the people in that program. I had difficulty trying to find people who were willing to leave the comfort of their home to come sleep on a portable, twin bed in a Sunday school room of the church. I was so thankful for Betty’s help. Also, Betty thought nothing of cooking a complete meal for 12 people without any help. She made my job easier because I always knew that I could depend on her!

I will keep Betty’s family and friends in my prayers.
Sincerely,
Phyllis

“ . I genuinely believed that Grandma Betty would be the first person to live forever. There are no words to describe what she means to me and everyone that she has come across. One of my dear friends said that Grandma Betty “loves intentionally”. She loved everyone that she came across in the most real and intentional way. Grandma Betty rode my first roller coaster with me and got her ears pierced for the first time when I got mine done. She always told me to put things “over yonder” and always called me her favorite (only) granddaughter. Grandma Betty, my mom, and I always joked about how similar we are (most of the time we were joking about our embarrassing qualities), but if I end up to be half as amazing as them I would be so lucky. I’m so blessed to have had such a wonderful, loving role model in my life. I’m so happy that you are finally with Papa Bill. I love you forever
