“ Many years ago Andy and Deon beat my wife and me in a bass tournament. Andy said he culled a bass with a crankbait to beat our weight on a crankbait. Several years later Andy and I are fishing together. Andy makes a cast and his crankbait tangles on the line and Andy starts to reel it in. The bait is Rolling in circles on top of the water. Andy comments that was exactly how his bait was working all those years ago when he beat us. I could have gone my whole life and been fine not knowing he beat my wife and me on a bait that wasn't even working correctly! Since then, every time my crankbait gets tangled in the line and I have to retrieve it, I'm reminded of how Andy and Deon beat us all those years ago. I even nicknamed it the Andy retrieve!
