“ Betty was one of the handful of people in my life that I counted as a true friend. She cared about you; there wasn't anything that she wouldn't do for you. I counted on her many times to help out with my mom, Jean, because I couldn't be there. She was always there for you...there are few people that give the love that Betty gave. I will always love her and will dearly miss her. She was always fun to be around, making you laugh. No matter what you were going through Betty lightened the load with empathy, support and kindness. My heart goes out to you Alec and Alison. May you be comforted by the love of family and friends.

Much love to you,

Deb E.

“ There are far too many memories over a fifty year timespan but the important ones were her love of family, Wayne, Alison, and Alec. They always came first then her many friends and coworkers. Before we both became too busy with families and jobs we shopped, lunched, played jokes on each other and friends as well, attended Bank functions . We attempted tennis and various art projects that fell by the wayside after a year or so. There were fun times while our husbands were working out of town or late, we would get together for dinner or go to Lenox Square. We lived in the same apartment complexes early in life so it made our friendship easier. Even though in later years with family and many other responsibilities we stayed in touch by telephone and occasional visits.

I remember she called me and asked me to come for the weekend as for the first time ever Wayne, Alison, and Alec would be away with their own activities and she was lost at home alone. So I drove the distance and we ran errands, visited The Abbey, purchased bonsai trees, and I brought a Buddha I still have.

It was very crowded that day at the Abbey as well as in Conyers due to the appearance of the Mother Mary in Conyers. Traffic was heavy with so many cars and tour buses.

Betty's terrific sense of humor got us through. There were many times that humor she had saved the day.

Alison and Alec, Betty loved you both so much. You are fortunate to have had her for a Mom and Wayne for a Dad.
