

Christopher Mauran

November 10, 1946 - December 3, 2015

Mr. Chris Mauran passed away Thursday, December 3, 2015. He is mourned by his wife, his 4 children, many grandchildren, and all the lives he touched. He brought smiles to many faces as the owner of Idiot's Delight and throughout his life as a delightful idiot. Before his retirement he owned and operated Elf Engraving (now Olde Town Awards). He taught us you don't have to be perfect to be wonderful. A Memorial Service will be held Sunday, December 6, 2015 at 3 p.m. at Scot Ward's Green Meadow Chapel with Dr. Dave Benson officiating. Family will receive friends Saturday, December 5, 2015 from 6 until 8 p.m. and Sunday from 2 p.m. until service time at the funeral home. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made in memory of Chris Mauran to the Elks Aidmore Children's Center at www.elksaidmore.com. Condolences may be submitted online at www.scotward.com. Scot Ward Funeral Services, 699 American Legion Road, Conyers, GA 30012, 770-483-7216.

“ I'm deeply sorry for your loss. I hope the words found in the bible at Isaiah 25:8 brings comfort. God promises to "swallow up death forever". No more will we have to suffer heartache for God says he will "wipe away the tears from all faces". Such a joyous time it will be; reunited with our dead loved ones!

“ Sending our thoughts and prayers in your time of grief. I often noticed Mr. Mauran at Tao's games and thought how lucky the children were to have such an attentive grandfather. This is the kind of memory that will last forever to honor him. Thank you for your generosity in sharing your lovely home with the soccer summer camps. Tre had such fun at those parties. With sympathy, Debra Holmes and Tre Coddington.

“ My Mom and Dad took me in the safety of their home when I was a teenager, not knowing how it would turn out. Their only concern was to protect me from my birth parents. Daddy taught me to always respect myself as a woman, My Mom taught me how to be a Lady as well as a great mother. All of the Maurans gave me something I never had before what "normal people" take for granted everyday, safety, courage, self confidence, love, and most of all a warmth of having a "real family" . I will always be eternally grateful. I always felt safe in the warmth of my Daddy's arms. My Daddy was and still is my hero in more ways than one. I will always feel lucky and extremely proud to be called his daughter. I love you Daddy! You will ALWAYS be my hero!

“ Years ago (before I knew Chris) I knew that he was the life of Idiot's Delight. He told me to come in the other room to see some amusing candy, but to leave my son where he was. Wow! We had several good laughs together. I also remember his generosity about making signs for boys earning their Boy Scout Eagle rank. And most of all I remember his cordiality and happy attitude at family and friends gatherings. Chris, You will be missed. Rest in Peace.

“ I can't say enough about Chris, and what an amazing person he was. From the first time that I met him, when working with Rafe at Wofford College, to him taking me in as another son (June 2009-July 2011)when I worked at RYSA, he was nothing short of incredible. He always had a joke waiting, and a smile present.

The one thing that I will remember most though is his giving heart, and his attempt to make those around him happy. He loved kids. He loved his own kids/grandkids; and he loved being around the game of soccer.

After having the chance to work at RYSA for two years, I grew very close to Chris and Judy (his better half as he always called her). He treated me like I was his own, and never took a second thought about having me over for dinner, helping watch our animals, or just stopping by the office to give me a hard time.

My favorite memory of Chris was coming back to play the Lady Revs in 2012 and him being there in his golf cart awaiting our arrival. I'm sure he did the same thing for every team that the Revs/Lady Revs were playing, but when I got off the bus, there was that smile there awaiting us. I gave him a huge hug, he asked how Annie (my better half) was doing, and showed me to the locker room. Once the girls were inside, he said "Great to have you back, but make sure you don't beat us, I don't want to have to beat you." Of course this was with the same smile that came with Chris everywhere he went, and everyone that met him. We drew 1-1, on a late equalizer; probably fate, because I would've hate to have made Chris upset.

Rest in peace Chris, and know that you made a huge impression on life and the people you came across. Annie and I think the world of you, and I know that all those who ever crossed paths with you long enough think the same.
