“ I'm deeply sorry for your loss. I hope the words found in the bible at Isaiah 25:8 brings comfort. God promises to "swallow up death forever". No more will we have to suffer heartache for God says he will "wipe away the tears from all faces". Such a joyous time it will be; reunited with our dead loved ones!

“ I will always remember our trip to Lenox to ride the "Pink Pig," it was baby Evan's first trip and Leah stepped up even as a 5th grader, to ride the Pig and hold sweet Evan. You shared a women's study bible chapter with me, because you said it reminded you of me. We both cried, and then you bought me that same study bible for Christmas, and an ELF ON A SHELF! I love you my friend, and I'll forever miss you and our midnight talks. Rest easy my sweet friend.

“ My heart goes out to your family. I am so sorry for your loss. What pain hurts worse than the pain of losing someone that you love? Though the pain you're feeling must seem unbearable, please remember that you are not alone. Psalms 46:1 says, "God is our refuge and strength, a help that is readily found in times of distress." Pray to Him for strength. Weep to Him when there are no words. One of the poets of the Bible said at Psalms 56:8, "You keep track of my wandering. Do collect my tears in your skin bottle." You see, God understands your pain and He cares for you very much (1 Peter 5:7). And He will really help you get through this difficult time (Isaiah 41:10).

“ My deepest sympathy to all who loved Christy. I went to Elementary and High school with her and remember her mom taking us to Six Flags and other fun times. Though we lost touch, we did run into each other some years later and it was good to catch up. Life is so short and she lived hers to the fullest, the way we all should. God Bless the family and may He bring you comfort through her eternal life with Him.

“ So many to choose from. How about the time we wend gambling. You won $600 and would have lost it all if I hadn't ripped you away from the machine. So we're heading back with our winnings. Pockets full of cash and we have no gas in your truck when we hit a traffic jam. We should have run out of gas 5 times that day. Somehow we didn't. What we did do was laugh about it...a lot I swear if we would have run out you were gonna be the one pushing. What a great time we had that day. As we did many days. Rest peacefully my dear friend. *I am so sorry about Christy! I truly loved her. She was such a 'go getter' in everything she ever done! I met Christy many, many years ago when she done Mortgages with Wells Fargo, I think, then HomeAmerica. Talk about a Chick that could 'get the job done', yep, that was Christy Hicks! I have been on the phone with her and asked her, "hey, where are you"? She'd say, "I'm on the beach in Panama City." She never let my deals die! I could always count on her to 'pull a rabbit out of the hat!' I think I could write a book on some of the deals we done together. Oh, yes, that is another thing ~ Christy did write a book! She helped me with some struggles we had in our own family. It helped just talking to her and listening to her view of the situation.
I never saw anyone have the disease like she had and give so much effort to beating it! I was always amazed at the effort she had put into the Cancer Cure and specifically her own cure! I have family of my own with cancer and sometimes just reading her Blog would make me think differently about things. Christy was a true JEWEL! I am so sure she is in heaven now meeting and greeting everyone she can!!!! I don't think she ever met a stranger! Along with that she never let her smile turn into a frown!!! I love you Chickadee! R.I.P Christy!*

I had the honor of meeting Christy and her brother Greg about 10 months ago. What an inspiration to all of those who are fighting cancer. Her blog helped so many that were suffering. While she was suffering you would never know it because she was always upbeat, smiling and trying to help others in their fight. Rest High on that Mountain Christy, for you truly are an Angel.
