“ Ron is a breed and generation of man that we are so lucky and honored to have known. Strength, kindness and humor. My own Dad, Ron's Uncle Art was so proud of Ron and was the son he never had. We will miss you so much but you live in us and our memories always.
All our love to the Shoop Family , Hope, Steve, Josh, Daniel and Jacob

“ Remember spending time with Ron and Judy in their palatial Bluebird RV at the ABQ Balloon Fiesta when they stopped on their way to the Ron's favorite Reno air races. They set up in the RV village at the balloon field and promptly made friends with everyone. Ron was a wonderful people person always drawing people to him with laughter. His jovial smile and warm hugs will be missed.

“ I have known C.R since he joined the North Georgia Mopar Club and was able to help him on several projects he was doing on his charger. He was always happy when it came to his car and wanted to talk to others about cars. I will miss having him around.

“ Death is truly our worst enemy. But it is also God's enemy as well. The bible points to a time when it will be no more (Rev 21:3,4) May the God of comfort be with your family.

“ In the 44 years I knew Ron, I rarely ever saw him without a smile on his face, and we always shared a friendly greeting. He cared greatly about his chosen profession and although I do not recall that we flew together, I knew him to be a man worthy of great respect among his peers. He has gone to a better place, where skies are always blue and where favorable tailwinds will make his journey one to enjoy. Godspeed Ron.

“ I have witnessed many hard fought and unselfish efforts by Ron, but in my last conversation with him he topped them all. Knowing he was soon to take his last breath and while suffering greatly himself he was concerned and mentioned an old friend of his who was suffering with ALS and dying of that disease. Ron was always willing, ready and able to stand up for his fellow man and any just cause.

Penny and I extend heartfelt condolences to Judy and the entire family.

“ My name is Pat Brewer. Many times I was Ron's co-pilot (mostly on the DC-9).
Ron was always professional. He is one of the Captains I tried to emulate when I made Captain. One example was a flight from Indianapolis to Atlanta. A fast moving cold front was approaching from the SW. We looked at it on our radar and we made the decision to delay takeoff about 15 minutes, I guess. Of course, this situation happened many other times in my career. What made this time different was that a know-it-all passenger wrote a letter saying he had earlier flown in from Louisville and there was no weather! Our Chief Pilot insisted we respond through Eastern why we did what we did. Ron wrote a very nice response and explained why we did not takeoff (between the lines letting the guy know he could have been a statistic if we had flown into one of the worse lines of WX I had ever seen). My letter basically said SEE RON'S LETTER!!!! Keep the blue side up, Ron.

“ I met Ron at LaGuardia Airport when I was based in New York. Ron was part of The Silver Falcons and was instrumental in getting the organization started. Ron offered much time and effort for the group. We were grateful to have him as part of the organization.

Ron and I met in 1955 in aviation cadets. We had an instant friendship from that time to today. We even roomed together at Luke A.F.B in "56". His two loves in life were his family and flying. His final struggle with life was a tough one and no one could have put up a tougher fight than he. The sad part is that all good things eventually come to an end and for CR this was the end of a long struggle. He will be sorely missed by his family and friends and most surely me. May he rest in peace and know that all the memories of him will be pleasant.

I met CR in aviation cadets in 1956. We flew with the same instructor and while I had a tough time he seemed to sail right through. After the Air Force we went our separate ways and I lost track of him. But he managed to dig me up some 25 years later and was instrumental in getting our class reunions going. I spoke with him a few weeks ago and although he knew he was quite ill he maintain his sense of humor. He was a good man and will missed by his family and friends.
