“ I look at this picture and see so much love he has for you and know you had for him. He is gonna need you to watch over us and help us figure things out. We are so lost right now and everything seems impossible. I can hear your voice telling me to shake that off and I will figure it out. I miss everything about you and hate that tomorrow is here and this day is real. I love you with everything I have inside of me and know you truly got me and loved me through all my scars, faults and all. You showed me so much and I am so grateful for that. I now have Braxton to watch and see so much of you and know we will be ok, never the same. But the love we both have for you will never go away or be forgotten. I thank you for everything and happy I had the amazing times we had. You are my rock, my world, my best friend and my other half

“ I could tell everytime I saw a picture of Dustin and Tera how much they loved each other. I knew Tera while living in the Conyers area when all of our children were growing up doing their thing as teenagers do. My heart tells me that Dustin and their family together was what made Tera and Dustin truly happy together! My heart aches for her, all of the family members, especially the parents. Never having met him I know Dustin was a great young man. God has yet another young person in his presence to do good works and be our guardian angels here on earth. I love you Tera and I will pray for your strength to carry on with your family in this very sad time of loss. A mutual friend gave me this figurine, simple but true. As the beautiful poem states "Death leaves a heartache no one can heal, Love leaves a memory no one can steal". His presence will always be felt! Deepest Sympathies, Patricia Johnson.
