“ I first met Ed at the SCCA Runoffs at Heartland Park in 2007. In the intervening years, we shared a commentary booth many times. We also shared a love of jazz, author James Lee Burke, good food and the occasional end-of-day tippie. Ed's warmth, wonderful sense of humor and dedication to his craft were only surpassed by his deep spiritual connection with his fellow man, especially to those in need of a helping hand. Ed was not only my colleague, he was the "big brother" I never had. Godspeed dear friend.
