“ I'm deeply sorry for your loss. I hope the words found in the bible at Isaiah 25:8 brings comfort. God promises to "swallow up death forever". No more will we have to suffer heartache for God says he will "wipe away the tears from all faces". Such a joyous time it will be; reunited with our dead loved ones!

“ I will always treasure my memories of Frances. She was witty and sharp, and could tell wonderful stories and make me laugh. She was always ready to greet each day with a positive attitude. She loved her Church and her Lord. Family was always very important to her. I will miss her so much. I know she is dancing in heaven.

“ My deepest sympathy to your family at this most difficult time in your lives. Please know that there is comfort in the words of Isaiah 25:8 where times like this will never exist again in the very near future because death will be completely removed from the earth and we want ever see our loved ones leave us again.

“ Kathy, Patsy, Sue - so saddened to hear of your mother's passing and very regretful that I was not able to be at the funeral. I have many happy memories of both your parents and of our families over the years. So many wonderful childhood memories include you and your parents. I always think of your mom with that twinkle in her eye and her laugh, of her love of bird paraphernalia, of being called in to her lunches of macaroni and cheese with a side of tuna (which I loved). Your house was one of the neighborhood congregating points whether it was to jump on the trampoline, sit in a circle in the grass playing games, or my introduction to the Slip N Slide. I think I held my first kite in your yard. And I'll always be forever grateful to your dad for the magical morning that he showed me how to find the Big Dipper in the sky. I had spent the night with y'all on Saturday and was roused before the sun to go to Mass with the family. Bleary-eyed stupor turned to wonder as he taught me how to see the dipper in the sky. To this day whenever I look up and find the Big/Little Dippers in the sky, I think of your dad. They were both wonderful people who will be missed. I'm sure she's rolling her eyes and laughing at him now.
