“ I knew about Jeff before actually meeting him, we were looking for a Video Engineer to work in our Atlanta location and he was referred to me by an industry colleague.

He was a creative, dynamic, quirky individual (in all the best ways) , a perfect fit for the team and a really nice person to work with. I was fortunate to enjoy many good conversations with Jeff, he was engaging and always made the day a little better.

*He will be missed and Sharon and send out deepest condolences

“ Jeff was one of those guys that always lightened the stress load here at work. He stopped by my office many times to show me his latest photos from trips he had taken. But it wasn't the scenery he was most proud of ... it was talking about his family members, that made Jeff light like the lighthouses he loved so much! I will never look at another lighthouse without thinking about Jeff.

May God Bless you all as you work through this hard time together as a family

“ I just want to express my sincerest sympathy for the McElreath family. Jeff was a kind soul and a friend. On my last work trip with Jeff, we had the opportunity to see the sites in London, UK and he was a better travel guide than most people that worked in that field.

“ Rest in peace Jeff, I am going to miss our banter whenever you come to DC. It was just last week you and I were kidding over email not knowing it'll be our last correspondence. I am hoping your family have the strength to bear your loss.
