“ Champion of the underdog, staunch supporter for those who could not speak for themselves, fearless advocate for what was right and just. I learned a lot from Lew Belcher. I'll miss the lively discussions, insight, and knowledge that he shared willingly with this transplant from Washington, D.C.

*Thank you Lew. You left some mighty big shoes to fill.

“ I am so saddened by Lewis death. He was a great friend. I remember his smile the first time I met him in Seattle in 1970. I don't think I ever saw him without that smile and the picture of him smiling will always remain in my memory. He was a wonderful husband, father, brother as well as a friend to so many people. His death leaves a void in all of our lives.
