“ It is obvious that this remembrance is a "day late and dollar short", but I still remember Paul as my friend and mentor during our years at Norfolk Southern. Paul was extremely intelligent and never lost his cool under any situation. He was a crack shot and taught me how to reload ammunition after work hours!

Paul once said "remember, when something breaks, take your time, never hurry, think it through, don't let anybody pressure you. You are the only one that can fix it! He was right. Thanks for the education and your friendship! My prayers got out to your family.
